Mr. Hundley also stated that he had made up his mind three or four weeks ago to abide by the result of the primary election, but that he had not publicly announced himself until Saturday, because he desired to secure the endorsement of the Independents at Friday night, and a valuable gold watch and their meeting held on Friday night, at which there were representatives from all the wards in the city. Mr. Hund-ley further stated that he had heard Mr. P. H. Starke say at that meeting that he colored man who wished to know whether he would be allowed to take part in the primary election. It was his desire to vote for Virginia gentlemen, and he wanted to know whether he would be allowed to do so before he offered himself at the polls on the day of the primary election.

What the Independents Did Friday Night.

At a meeting held at Schiller Hall, on Broad street, Friday evening, in which the various ward clubs of the Independent registration of voters, and shall be made, Conservative Association of Richmond were revised, altered, and amended in the modes represented, it was unanimously decided as prescribed in such laws, or any other laws the opinion of those present, in which they believe a large majority of the "Independents" concur, that the members of the or after, upon sufficient proof offered to the Association may individually participate in registrar that a name has been registered the approaching primary election to nomi- contrary to law, it shall be the duty of the nate candidates for the various offices to be registrat to str filled at the May election, with the full approbation of the Independent organization, Schaffer vs. Schaffer, &c. We claim, and believe it is generally conceded, that if fairness in the election. count, and returns had prevailed, the most obnoxious part of the regular ticket was defeated by a large majority of the people who voted, and the opposition was sympathized in by many more who did not vote with the Independents, but that the spirits invoked and the agencies originally employed to procure the nomination succeeded by still more astounding frauds and corruption in stifling the voice of the majority, and in procuring a return by perjury, and a final confirmation of the outrage by bribery. 3. We claim, and believe it is now universally conceded, that the development of the fraudulent practices and corruption that have for years polluted the local politics of Richmond, and their exposure to the light of popular indignation through the instrumentality of the Independents in the last election, has aroused all the better class of people to a sense of the necessity for reform and the total overthrow of the power of corrupt men, who in too many instances used either one of said judges shall be regulated the Conservative organization as an instru- and governed, as far as they may be appliment of personal advancement for which they were wholly unworthy.

4. We claim, and no one denies, that the reorganization of the Conservative party which has taken place in Richmond is the direct result of our independent movement, and that the giant strides that have been a base of seven feet. It will show from its sides in time will make it impossible, for brazenfaced rascality to manipulate popular elections in our midst, is a concession to our organization which was demanded by the exigencies of the Conservative party.

The primary-election plan, so fruitful of mischief in the past, is obnoxious to many of us; but we believe, modified as it has been, and as we understand its provisions, $3,025, being the last instalment of the it has been shorn of its most objectionable features, and may at least be tested once more as not an unreasonable mode of ascertaining in its new form, and under honest auspices, the popular choice in recommending candidates for general support.

It is true that the mode of executing the plan is not as clearly and explicitly stated as we think its importance demanded. To remove all doubt on a very material pointthe right to vote at the primary—this Asso-"Is it the intention of the Central Committee to declare by the primary plan of election that any registered voter of the city shall be entitled to vote at said election if when he presents himself at the polls, and his right to vote should be challenged, he declares that he honestly intends to cooperate with the Conservative party at the final election?"

The paper containing this inquiry was returned with an endorsement in the following words: "The question is fully answered in the last Thursday's Enquirer and Dispatch."

Those newspapers of that date contained the plan of the primary election adopted by the Central Committee, and it was to the language of that plan we were referred for an answer. On examination we find in the first section of the third article these words in relation to a voter's right of suffrage when he presents himself at the polls: "The Johnson. clerk who has charge of the registration son, the New Orleans Times asserts, was a poet, in evidence whereof it adduces the poem beginning—

We are impelled to this course by a spirit of peace, harmony, and mutual concession, believing that there are honest and capable men enough in this city ready and willing to unite to defeat the aims of mere party bummers and greedy placemen, and secure a city government of which, in all its departments, Richmond may be justly proud, and set an example to other Conservatives to act in their local politics on the principle that mittee held last Tuesday night a written honesty is the best policy," even in these times of general corruption, and that no people can afford, merely for party consistency, to honor with their suffrages a notoriously corrupt and bad man, or set of

The New Registration. Under the act of Assembly passed at the last session of the Legislature registration will commence in the several wards of the city to-morrow morning-the fourth Tuesday in April. Each of the new registrars recently appointed by Judge Guigon is required to register the names of all the qualified voters of his precinct who according to law are entitled to registration, legal notice of the time and place having been given more than ten days ago. The registrars are to complete the registration within seven days from the time of commencing the same. Immediately after its completion the registrars shall cause to be posted at three or more public places in their precincts written or printed lists of all persons admitted by them to registration.

The new law further provides that the registration shall have the same effect and be deemed equivalent to a general registration of the voters of the city under the general laws heretofore adopted in regard to the regulating registration of voters in the city. Provided, that during said registration whereupon he shall immediately post at the place of residence given for the name stricken off a notice directed to such name, informing the person supposed to be represented that his name has been stricken off the registration lists, and that upon applying to either one of the judges of the Hustings, Circuit, or Chancery courts of the city of Richmond, and proving to such judge that his name has been improperly stricken from said lists, he can have the same restored: and it shall be the duty of each registrar, at least fifteen days prior to any election, to publish in one of the newspapers published in the city of Richmond a list of the names stricken from his books under the provisions of this act, which publication shall be paid for out of the city treasury as other claims against the city are paid for. In taking testimony under the provisions of this act the registrars are hereby given authority to administer oaths to witnesses. And if the registrar, upon proof being offered to him, shall fail or refuse to strike such name from his list, upon complaint thereof by five citizens to any one of the judges of the Hustings, Circuit, or Chancery courts of the city of Richmond, the said judge, upon proof registrar to strike such name from his lists. And if the said registrar shall, under the provisions of this act, improperly strike any name from his lists, upon complaint thereof by the voter to either one of the said judges, such judge, upon proper proof, shall order the said registrar to restore such name to his lists. Any registrar who shall corruptly strike a name from his lists, under the provisions of this act, shall be liable, upon conviction, to a fine of not less than fifty dollars and to imprisonment in jail for not less than ten days. NOT A RESPONSIBLE PARTY.-He is a longlegged, jimber-jawed son of Africa, and votes the "Rip-publican" ticket regularly. He perambulates our streets regularly, matutinally, and diurnally, seeking all the stray bits of calico, scrap-iron, old stoves, new boots, old hats, gate-fastenings, old locks, second-hand pulpits, cast-off coffins, nonfitting backs, and such like débris of everyday Richmond life. He makes his daily report at his headquarters, on Eighth street, and, as he empties his load of junk to be assorted and weighed, he gives an account of his adventures during the day. During the last cold spell he appeared in the afternoon as usual, and thus delivered himself: "I suttingly is a curious nigger anyhow. nuvver thought myself a true Rip-publikin befo' lars' night.
